

INSTRUCTIONS FOR HOME SCHOOLED STUDENTS TO WRITE THE MMC.

Home Schoolers should make arrangements to write at a local high school under the supervision of the teacher administering the Pascal/Cayley/Fermat contests there. Call the school of your choice and speak to whomever is administering the contests on that day.

The school should include any homeschoolers writing there in their registration numbers. On the contest paper, for "school", the student should write "Home School". The papers can be returned in the same envelope as the school's own papers and the reporting sheet should list Home Schoolers but mark them "HOME SCHOOL".

Home schoolers compete for the D2 district prize, regardless of which district the school administering their exam belongs to.
